Colours

only the sun can keep its Golden shine and the Moon its silvery glow...

the alive BloodRed of the divine love..

with the solid green surrounding..

mother nature...

and the chilly blue picking for attention & observation...

the furnished tree is everywhere..

as the nature wont ever disapear from inside...

as if we ever want it to??

the air is colourless...

in our human eyes...

tho its a wide range of colours...

this rainbow is comparing of the same rainbow made in love...

of love..

not even the darkest sucking grey will be without a slight glow of silver in the name of love...

here.. where everything is made with love...

Green is for security..

LimeGreen is sickness... illness...

Yellow is newbies & child & renew..

Red is passion...

Purple is divine... endless...

Blue is big & bold... cold & strictly..

and midnight blue.. aswell as Cobolt... makes me dive in...

each one making its own emotional reaction in everyones mind and soul...

hurt... happy... grieved... cunning... strong.. selfish.. caring... compassionate one lifetime isnt enough...

thanku for being here for me..

with me...

as..

Love is bigger than life...
